BROWNSBORO TEXAS

Foreword

GYMNASIUM

With this 1967 edition of Bear Tracks the Annual Staff has endeavored to bring an accurate account of the progress and main events of another school year.

The main additions to our campus have been new students, new faculty members, and two new buildings. We have welcomed as an asset approximately one hundred high school students and three faculty members from our neighboring Central School. Also we have enjoyed the addition of two new modern buildings - a gymnasium and band hall. These facilities were constructed and ready for use this school year.

We hope this book will remind you of your happy school days of 1966-67 and signify honest effort, school spirit, and love for your Alma Mater.

Dedication

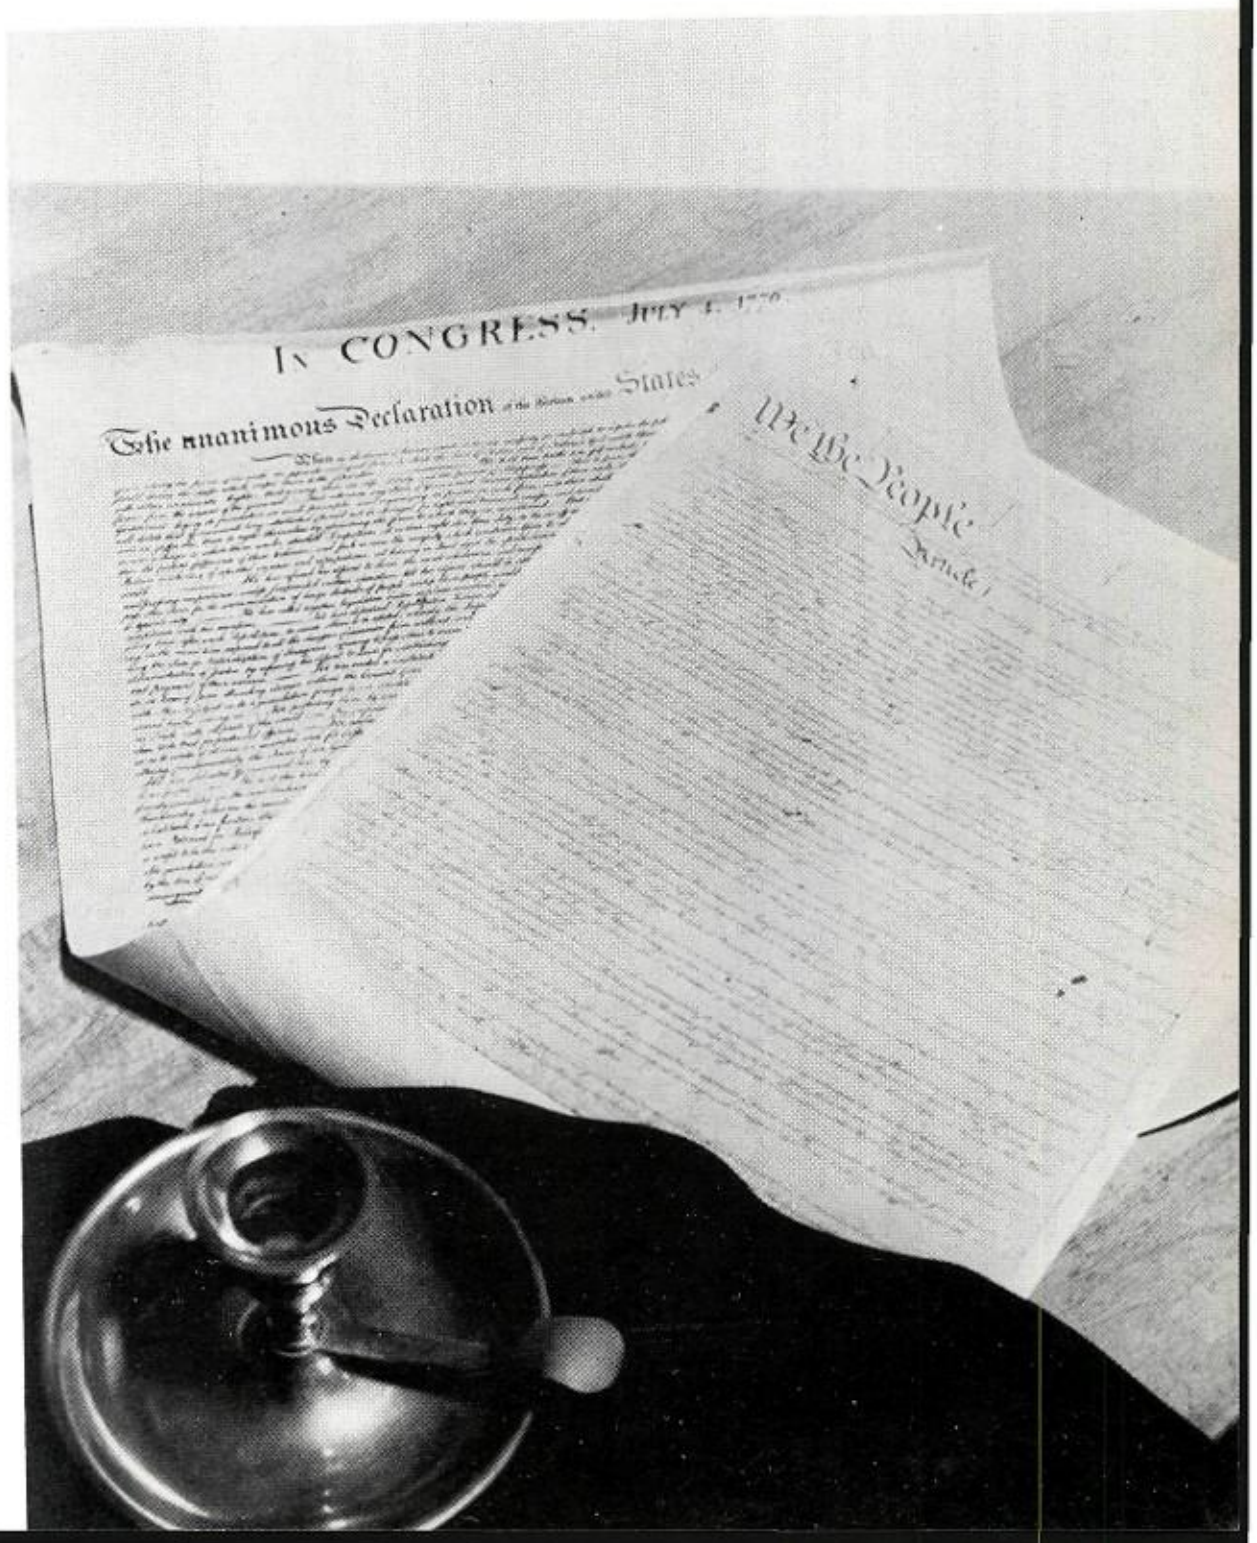
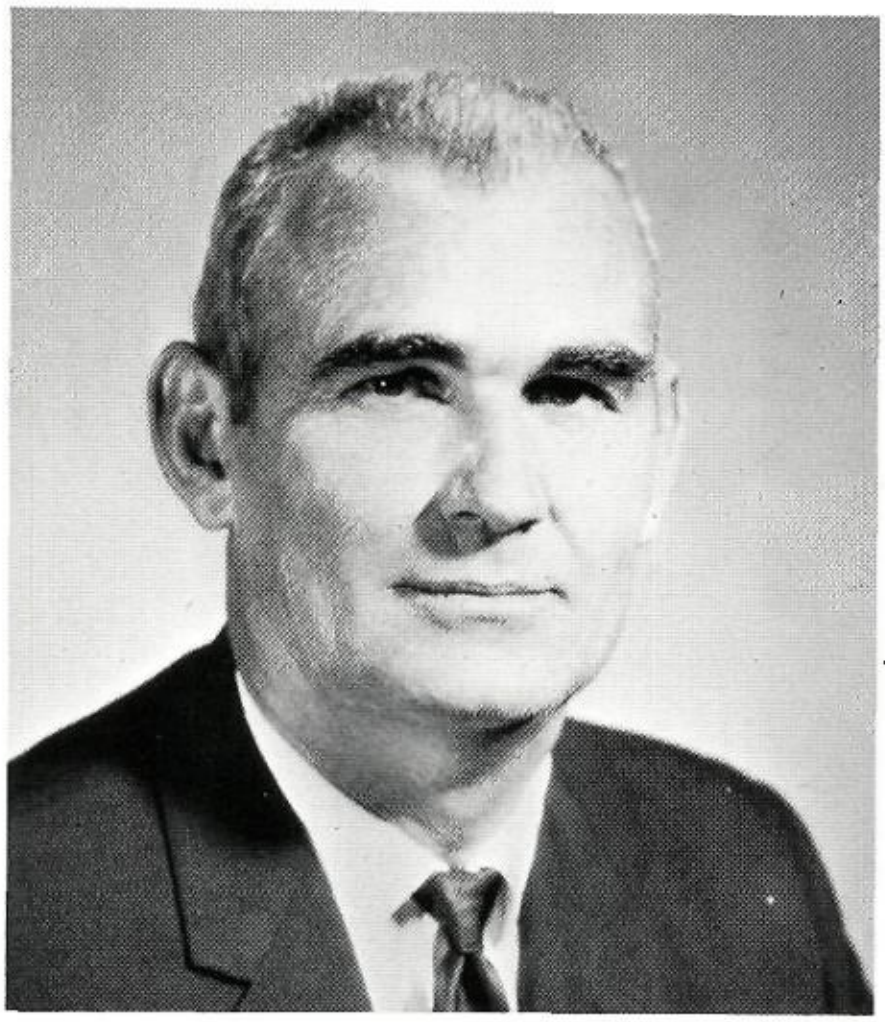
Mrs. Mary R. Pence
Librarian

We dedicate the XX Editon of the 1967 Bear Tracks to Mrs. Mary Pence, who so well deserves this honor. Mrs. Pence has given freely of her time and effort in order to help us. She did this not because she had to but because she felt it was her duty. Her desire to have the best has brought out the best in us. This annual is dedicated to her because we understand that she is the one who makes it possible for us to have this annual each year.

ADMINISTRATION



Superintendent



MR. G. W. WATSON

Within these pages are treasured memories of the school year 1966-67 at Brownsboro High School. This annual represents all that has been a part of the active school days and it is a record of the many memories you will cherish in later years. I wish to pause at this time to express my deep appreciation to you, the annual staff, for giving unselfishly of your time and energy to make this year-book a profitable publication.

I also wish to congratulate the members of the student body, who have worked so diligently and faithfully in making this a very successful year.

Mr. Ephraim Garcia
Director

The Student Body has come to know Mr. Garcia since he came to B. H. S. to direct the "Blue & Gold". He has been engaged in many activities to help our student body and has always strived to have a bigger and better band each year. We take this space in order to show our appreciation for a job well done in so short a time.

This past summer our leading line journeyed to S. M. U. for a week of, as they put it, "Slavery"! It seems our drum-major was always first to class. Later we found out why her class was so interesting. It was made up mostly of boys. Remember John, Brenda? Everyone ate breakfast except Prissy. She was always in front of the mirror or complaining about stumping her toe on the door stopper. One majorette could always be found downstairs eating and showing off a certain boy's picture, "and she said she lost weight." Come on, Sharon. Gail was well known and will be long remembered for her daring photography. Dale and Molly could always be found in their rooms mooning over two B'boro gentlemen. Meanwhile someone passed the word to Judy and Jan that a boy was loose in the girls dorm carrying an axe, so these two stayed prepared to murder anyone entering their room. As for Rita, she was always complaining about the food and trying to trade off her big juicy meatball. The nine tired girls were glad to return home with all their good memories of twirling camp.

This past summer, these five cheerful beauties attended S. F. A. Cheerleading Camp. It was a great week for the girls who spent their midnights washing clothes and sitting in the hall. Susan spent most of her time in the closet with a camera. She seemed to be taking all the pictures of herself. The morale of this happy group was kept up by a certain comedian. Joyce kept everyone in stitches at lunch with her jokes and little sayings. It seems that Rhonda learned a great new dance step. She was so great that before the week was over, she had demonstrated for nearly everyone there. Betsy, in order to keep her muscles built up spent most of her time running up and down the stairs after curfew. The floor monitor wanted her to keep in good health, so she instructed her as to how many times she should run them. Pat spent most of her week holding the clock in front of everyone's faces with one hand and a schedule in the other. When everything was summed up, it was a great week. They are looking forward to another great week next summer.
